PRICE FIVE CENTS

MAY CUT 1,500 COUNTIANS OFF VOTING LISTS

Approximately 1,500 Adams Countians have been sent notices their names will be purged from the voter lists unless they return cards sent them within 10 days. The group are those who have not voted during the last two years. The county commissioners at their meeting this morning said that a number of the 1,500 have died or moved from the county, but that many are currently residents. A clerk said the check showed a few people who have not voted in years, but who each two years have returned the cards regularly to keep their names current on the list of registered voters.

The last of the cards are to be returned by March 21. However each person receiving a card must return his within 10 days after receipt of the letter or stricken from the rolls. The letters were sent out in three different "bundles" and thus some have only a few days to return their cards.

Reports to the commissioners showed 96 new registrants during the current period.

Much of the commissioners' morning session today was devoted to additional work on the budget.

Carl Gudat, of Buchart-Horn, York consulting engineers, met with the commissioners to outline that organization's planning development division. He gave details of the advantages of establishing planning on a county level, and told of the experiences of York, Lancaster and other counties in planning. Asked by Commissioner Atlee Rebert about the cost, Gudat said the cost of professional services of his firm "varies according to whatever you want done. Most counties set up a plan covering several years, with certain things done the first year, others in the second and so on."

Gudat said the commissioners should start planning "because Adams County is lying right in the path of development and you can expect it to start soon. If it is haphazard, then it will be the fault of public officials who have not developed plans for the county's growth."

The commissioners this morning approved purchase of a new typewriter for the probation office and approved general fund bills totaling $15,260.

FORMER LOCAL RESIDENT DIES

William Bernard "Barney" Aldinger, 64, a former Gettysburg resident, died this morning at 8:20 o'clock at his home 161 S. Sixth St., Chambersburg. He had been in ill health for one and one-half years.

He was born in Harrisburg and graduated from Harrisburg Tech in 1920 and was a member of the Tech national championship football squad of 1919. He graduated from Lafayette College in 1924 where he was a member of the Phi Delta Theta fraternity.

He operated the College Inn in Chambersburg from 1924 to 1935 and later operated businesses in Chambersburg and Gettysburg until 1961. For a number of years he operated the Stag Bar on Chambersburg St. and more recently the Pub on Lincoln Square.

He was a member of the Chambersburg Methodist Church, Chambersburg Elks Lodge, Free and Accepted Order of Masons and Zemo Shrine.

Surviving are his widow; one son, Frederick, Samuel Dixon Hospital, Mt. Alto; one daughter, Mary Anne Aldinger, Philadelphia, and a sister, Mrs. T. Reed Shuey, Harrisburg.

Funeral services Monday at 1:30 p.m. at the Sellers Funeral Home, Chambersburg. Interment in the Harrisburg Cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home an hour prior to the services.

TWO COURT ORDERS

The county court has handed down an order appointing Attorney Daniel E. Teeter as a member of the committee on admissions to the Bar of Adams County to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Attorney J. Francis Yake Jr.

The court has also handed down an opinion denying a new trial to Herbert R. Gsell, Waynesboro, on a charge of setting up a gambling device by providing two machines to the Fairfield Amvets. He had appealed from a guilty verdict by a jury.

13 GIRLS WILL COMPETE FOR APPLE QUEEN

Thirteen girls, daughters of Adams County fruitgrowers, attended a "School of Grooming" Thursday evening in the Biglerville High School auditorium in preparation for the annual Apple Blossom Queen contest.

One of the girls will be selected Saturday night to reign over the county's apple festivities throughout the year. She will be crowned on Apple Blossom Sunday in May. The contest will be held in the Biglerville High School auditorium at 8 o'clock. Judges are expected to announce their decision about 9:30 o'clock. The public is invited to attend.

Nine of the girls are juniors at Biglerville High School. They are: Susan Kime, 16, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kime, Aspers, R. 1; Gayle Pitzer, 16, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Pitzer, Aspers; Connie Fetters, 16, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Fetters, Gardners R. 2; Connie Bream, 16, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Bream, Bendersville; Kris Lady, 16, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Lady, Biglerville; Eleanor Cox, 16, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hayse Cox, Gardners R. 2; Kathy Miller, 16, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert W. Miller, Biglerville R. 1; Judy Tate, 16, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Tate, Arendtsville; Hannah Hauser, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Hauser, Biglerville; Tonja Knouse, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilmer Knouse, Arendtsville.

Others in the contest are Linda Fox, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Grayson Fox, Orrtanna, and Sandra Spence, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clark E. Spence, Orrtanna. Juniors at Fairfield High School: Cindy Starnier, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Starnier, Orrtanna R. 1, a Senior at Gettysburg High School.

CONDUCTS SCHOOL Mrs. Ruth Trostel, chairman of the queen committee of the Fruitgrowers Association, conducted the grooming school to acquaint the girls with contest procedures. She was assisted by the 1964 County Queen, Martha McDannell.

Harold Garretson, president of the Fruitgrowers Association, will welcome the contestants at the program Saturday night, when former county Apple Blossom Queens will be honored.

The Girls' Trio from Biglerville High School will present a vocal program and Diane Bream, Gettysburg High School, will perform a song and dance routine. Members of the trio are Ann Ernst, Linda Naugle and Louise Lawver. Mrs. Glenn Tuckey will be the pianist.

FIREMEN CALLED Bonneauville and Gettysburg firemen were summoned Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock to extinguish a brush fire at the George Gebhart property in the Bonneauville area.

DANCE ON MAR. 20 The St. Patrick's Day dance originally scheduled for March 20 at the Catholic War Veterans post in Bonneauville, will be held instead this Saturday night, March 13, from 10 to 1 o'clock. Johnny Baker's orchestra will provide the music.

88TH ANNIVERSARY George F. Eberhart, Baltimore St., former proprietor of the Eberhart Garage (later the Epley garage) Eagle Hotel and later the Eberhart Hotel, will observe his 88th birthday on Sunday.

Surviving is his wife, the former Hattie M. Hess; four sisters and a brother, Mrs. Minerva Funt, Biglerville R. 1; Mrs. Alta Goodyear of Quintin, Pa.; Mrs. William Dillon, Gettysburg; Mrs. Elsie Kuhn, Biglerville, and Harry Noel, Biglerville.

EVANGELISTIC SERVICES Evangelistic services will begin at Mt. Calvary EUB Church, near Cashtown, Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock and will continue nightly through the week with the pastor and guest speakers to address the services. There will also be films and special music. The public is invited.

4 ARE ARRESTED Reeb, 38, and two other Unitarian clergymen were beaten when they were attacked by a group of white men on a Selma street. The other ministers were not hurt seriously, but Reeb was driven 90 miles to Birmingham.

Wilson Baker, Selma's public safety director, said four Selma men had been arrested and charged with murder. They were released later under $25,000 bond each. Baker said Alabama law permits bond on a murder charge if there is indication a jury will not return the death penalty.

LBJ PHONES WIDOW President Johnson phoned Mrs. Reeb half an hour after her husband's death. Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey and Mrs. Johnson also expressed sympathy.

Reeb was working for the American Friends Service Committee at the time he died. John A. Sullivan, executive director of the committee's New England division, said the minister "knew what the dangers were in going to Selma, but he knew he had to go."

Selma has been the center of a Negro voter registration drive led by Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

"LOSS TO CHURCH" King said Reeb's death was "a great loss to the church community." (Continued on Page 3)

DR. CRAPSTER NAMED DEAN AT COLLEGE

President C. A. Hanson of Gettysburg College announced today the appointment of Dr. Basil Crapster as dean of the college, succeeding Dr. Charles H. Glatfelter. The appointment is to become effective at the beginning of the spring semester, next January 31.

Dr. Glatfelter, who is professor of history, has been dean of the college since 1960 and director of the summer session since 1959. He will return to his teaching duties in the history department. Dr. Glatfelter, a graduate of the college, has been on the faculty since 1949.

SAMUEL NOEL DIES SUDDENLY

Samuel B. Noel, 77, Biglerville R. 2, died Thursday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock in the Warner Hospital from a heart attack he suffered in his home at 12:30 Thursday morning. He was admitted to the hospital about 2:15 Thursday morning in the Biglerville ambulance.

He had been in ill health for a number of years, having suffered several strokes prior to the heart attack, and had been under the care of a physician.

A son of the late William I. and Elizabeth (Fehl) Noel, he was a native of Adams County. He enlisted in the U.S. Army November 19, 1914, and served in France, Germany and the Philippines, seeing action in a number of engagements. He was discharged at Camp Meade December 17, 1919, as a corporal. He re-enlisted December 18, 1919, and was promoted to sergeant and was sent overseas to Germany and France serving in the 101st Airborne Depot Co. He returned to the U.S. December 17, 1920, and was discharged in New York.

He was a member of the Ira E. Lady Post No. 282, of Biglerville.

Surviving is his wife, the former Hattie M. Hess; four sisters and a brother, Mrs. Minerva Funt, Biglerville R. 1; Mrs. Alta Goodyear of Quintin, Pa.; Mrs. William Dillon, Gettysburg; Mrs. Elsie Kuhn, Biglerville, and Harry Noel, Biglerville.

JAYCEES NAME R. W. STEINOUR NEW PRESIDENT

Rodney W. Steinour, Gettysburg R. 2, an employee of the Gettysburg National Bank, was elected president of the Gettysburg Junior Chamber of Commerce by unanimous vote at its meeting Thursday evening in the former Western Maryland Railway office. Steinour, who had been a vice-president of the organization, had been acting as president since the resignation of Barton Hoppe upon his moving from the community.

Albert Treher was elected internal vice-president and Charles D. Angstadt external vice-president. Thomas Simonton was named secretary and George Tolbert treasurer.

Thomas Piper, county agent and former president of the Jaycees, was elected chairman of the board of directors and state director. Others elected to the board included Ross Crouse, Laurence L. Yager, Donald Kump, Ray Mackley and Robert Weiland.

Plans were made for installation of the new officers at a banquet April 6 at which Mort Rosen, state Junior Chamber of Commerce president, will be the speaker. The site for the banquet will be announced later.

President Steinour announced plans for an area Jaycee meeting at Waynesboro April 4 to discuss political affairs.

Announced as new members of the local chapter were P. Ross Ramer, Gerald Taughnbaugh and Paul Van Noord.

The next meeting of the chapter will be held March 25.

NOTE NATIONAL BUSINESS WEEK

National Business Women's Week was marked at a meeting of the Business and Professional Women's Club Thursday evening in the YWCA.

Mrs. Mildred Wherley, membership chairman, was in charge of the session at which she noted that the first observance was held in 1928 and since then the week has achieved nationwide observance. Theme for this year's observance is "The Responsibility of Full Partnership."

Mrs. Colleen Lowe of the local Bureau of Employment Security office was the speaker.

Noting that the bureau was established in 1933, she said that it "is not a federal agency, but the state operates it with grants from the federal government. It is regulated and controlled by the state under standards imposed by the federal government."

PLACES APPLICANTS "The bureau has 113 offices in Pennsylvania. There are 1,800 such offices throughout the nation. The Adams county office in 1964 had approximately 1,000 placements of which 150 were (Continued on Page 2)

FELLOWSHIP AWARDED TO COLLEGE COED

Miss Daisie M. Crumling, a Gettysburg College philosophy major, is among the winners of graduate fellowships announced today by the Woodrow Wilson National Fellowship Foundation, Princeton, N. J. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd E. Crumling, Hellam, Pa.

Over 11,000 faculty-nominated college seniors in the United States and Canada competed for the grants, designed to recruit new college teachers. 1,395 were chosen for the academic year 1965-66. Recipients of these grants will receive tuition and fixed fees at the graduate school of their choice, plus $1,800 for living expenses.

The foundation also accorded honorable mention to 1,242 seniors. Among these is Mrs. Margaret Coulson Musselman, a Gettysburg College German major. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ross H. Coulson, Akron, Pa.

Sir Hugh Taylor, president of the foundation, announced that the majority of those accorded honorable mention are expected to receive alternate awards from other sources.

HONOR STUDENT
Miss Crumling has been a dean's list honor student her Freshman, Sophomore, Junior years and the first semester of this year. She has been elected to membership in Phi Beta Kappa society and plans to attend graduate school following her graduation in June. Her field of study will be philosophy.

Mrs. Musselman was a dean's list honor student her Freshman and Sophomore years and has been elected to membership in Phi Beta Kappa society. She spent two years abroad, the first under the Junior year program 1962-63 at Munich, Germany, and the second in independent study at Grenoble, France, 1963-64. She will graduate in June and plans to attend graduate school specializing in German.

The foundation program is the largest private source for advanced work in the liberal arts. It has been financed, since expansion to its present size in 1958, by two Ford Foundation grants totalling $52 million.

all of the county into six units as was proposed in the county plan approved last May by the county board, or the fourth possibility which was the one adopted. The decision was interpreted as meaning that the state board felt the purposes of the school reorganization act would be best accomplished under the conditions spelled out in the order.

TO SELECT NINE

Under the school reorganization act, the school directors of the county will hold a convention on or before next January 15 to select an interim operating committee of nine members from among the directors. That committee will prepare and adopt the first budget for the new county school district, levy taxes and prepare for the creation of the new district by July 1, 1966.

Directors not named to the nine-member operating committee will serve in an advisory capacity until their terms expire.

The operating committee will name the new district and select its first superintendent, who may or may not be a present administrator in the county. The committee would assign incumbent supervising principals to positions for which they are certificated, according to the act.

COULD ELECT AT LARGE

The operating committee will become the new school board with provision made in the law for election of new directors on staggered terms. Elections could be at large throughout the county or the court could be asked to divide the county into three or nine districts with three or one director to be named from each district. Directors would continue to be elected for six-year terms.

The reorganization law has nothing to say about the future role of the county superintendent or the present county board of school directors. New legislation at the current session of the Legislature may clear that picture, schoolmen said.

Backers of the one-unit plan for the county were pleased with the Harrisburg decision that in their view "will more effectively pursue the desired educational goals of the School Reorganization Act." In their appeal to the state board the one-unit backers claimed these benefits for the single-unit school district: A more thorough and efficient system of public schools, provide more efficiently a professional staff for specialization in remedial instruction, foreign languages and the arts, make possible more efficient assignment of pupils and bus routes, provide benefits from bulk purchasing, reduction of paper work by data processing machines and reduction of the number of reports, offer a more favorable climate for attracting industry, simplify and make more efficient tax collection and records handling, provide more unified goals for education in the county and offer more efficient assignment of administrative and other personnel.

The appellants had urged the "equalization of educational opportunity" within the county as a major reason for the single unit.

4,000 CLERGY WANT JOHNSON TO VISIT SELMA

WASHINGTON (AP) — Four thousand clergymen from across the nation heard an appeal today for a visit by President Johnson to strife-torn Selma, Ala., and a call for a "strong" bill to guarantee Negroes voting rights in the South.

Clergymen jammed the Lutheran Church of the Reformation in an interfaith rally called by the Commission on Religion and Race of the National Council of Churches.

The meeting was preparatory to sending a delegation to the White House and visits to members of Congress, seeking guarantees against a repetition of the beating of voting rights marchers and the slaying of the Rev. James J. Reeb in Selma.

NEGROES DESPAIR

The meeting applauded Methodist Bishop John Wesley Lord of Washington when he told them that many whites and Negroes in the South are "disenchanted and in great despair" over the turn of events, and that the President's presence would do much.

"His presence, and a simple statement of the action he is taking, and a resolution in the Congress, might even yet do much to avert disaster and strengthen the cause of freedom now," Bishop Lord said.

LAUNCH FUND DRIVE

Simultaneously, three religious groups announced launching a joint campaign to raise funds for the families of civil rights marchers, including the family of Reeb, a minister of the Unitarian Universalist Church.

A statement issued by the Unitarian Universalist Association, Boston; the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, Atlanta, Ga., and the American Friends Service Committee, Philadelphia, said they will receive contributions.

WILL AID SURVIVORS

The money will be used, they said, to "lessen the hardships of those who have suffered in the civil rights cause, to which James J. Reeb was so deeply committed."

Pittsburgh Group Earns Gas Award

The Pittsburgh Group Companies of Columbia Gas System, which includes the Gettysburg branch of Columbia Gas of Pennsylvania, has been named first place winner of the National Safety Council's Employee Injury Safety contest, Gas Industry Division. The group had only nine lost-time accidents in more than seven million man hours in 1964, a rating of 1.27 disabling injuries per one million man hours of work. Second place winner, Washington, D. C., Gas Light Co., earned a 1.76 rating. The national average is 4.91.

Columbia's Pittsburgh Group employs 3,300 workers in a five-state area and promotes employee safety through "Drive-Train" testing units, safety meetings, management talks, regular maintenance and inspection of company equipment, posters and pay envelope inserts and intra-company safety awards.

Says Marine Move Strips Pretense

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Wayne Morse says sending 3,500 Marines to South Viet Nam has stripped from the United States its pretense of wanting only to aid the people of the Southeast Asia country.

In a Senate speech Thursday, the Oregon Democrat said the Marines are only the first installment of additional U.S. manpower, and that what is officially considered the strategic interest of the United States "will determine the course of the war."

the West Godavari District of India. At the age of 15 he became a Christian because of the influence of missionary teachers and Indian Christian workers. While completing his university courses, he decided on a career of the ministry and completed his theological training at Serampore in 1941. Shortly afterward he went to teach at Luthergiri Theological College in Rajahmundry. He was married in 1942. In 1945 Dr. David received a call to a parish near Rajahmundry, after which he went out to serve in the new parish as an ordained minister.

In 1947 Dr. and Mrs. David came to the United States for study at Yale University, and he received his Ph.D. in 1949. Since 1950, Dr. David has served as principal of Gurukul Lutheran Theological College and Research Institute in Madras.

Dr. and Mrs. David returned to the United States in June, 1964. He is spending his sabbatical leave doing post-doctoral work at the University of Chicago. His writing project is "The Contemporary Debate on God: An Assessment and Interpretation in the Context of the Religious Resurgence in India." They will return to India in June, 1965.

Mrs. David is a medical doctor, having graduated from the Vellore Christian Medical College. She received her M.P.H. from Yale University. She assists in the Gurukul campus dispensary and teaches first aid, hygiene and public health. Currently she is helping her husband with his work at the University of Chicago.

Jet Bombers Blast Targets In N. Viet Nam

By MALCOLM W. BROWNE

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — American and South Vietnamese planes took off from Da Nang Air Force base today on more secret strikes. There was no disclosure of their targets.

A dozen U.S. Air Force jet fighter-bombers took off before noon from the base 365 miles northeast of Saigon. They returned in the afternoon with their bombs and rockets gone.

Four U.S. B57 Canberra bombers took off and returned a short time later. A military spokesman in Saigon, without naming Da Nang, said four B57 jets had made strikes today on Viet Cong concentrations in Phu Yen Province, about 180 miles south of Da Nang.

RED TARGETS

Six Vietnamese Skyraiders left Da Nang. On their return authorities said they had hit guerrilla targets inside the country.

In the past, strikes on targets in Communist North Viet Nam have been announced after the planes returned. Strikes against Communist supply routes in Laos are not announced.

Reliable military sources in Saigon reported that Vietnamese air force personnel stationed at Saigon, Bien Hoa and Da Nang, the country's three major military airfields, had been placed on an alert status and confined to their bases today.

It was speculated the move was a security measure to prevent the leaking of information on any impending air strikes.

Michael Keefer, son of Mrs. Sara Keefer, McKnightstown, was presented the "Leonard Collins Award" given by former Gettysburg High School agriculture students who have received the American Farmer degree from the national FFA. The award goes to the outstanding Junior student in the agriculture course.

Presented with the chapter degree for outstanding work were James Bigham, Robert Conover, David and Dennis Mummert, Eugene Pottorff, Timothy Redding, Michael Rohrbach, Eddie Toddes, Clair Thompson, James and Steven Waybright, Donald Wolf, Renfred Zepp and Gary Miller.

KEYSTONE DEGREE AWARDS

Philip Hill was announced as the Adams County winner of the Production Credit award. The students who won placings at the South Mountain Fair Future Farmers competition were presented with their ribbons and medal awards.

Mr. Schriver reported that, as a result of the 1947 points scored by the Gettysburg High School students in the competition at South Mountain Fair between youths from high schools in Franklin and Adams County, Gettysburg High School won the area plaque.

Keystone Farmer degree awards were presented to John Baker, Philip Hill, Stephen Redding and Robert Weikert. It was announced that Weikert had also won the Regional Star Farmer award.

MEDALS DELIVERED

Medals and other awards won by the youths in the state project contest were presented. James Bigham was first in the state in wheat; Stephen Redding second in laying hens. Others who received gold medals were Mark Bucher, Kenneth Ketterman, John Baker, and Philip Hill. Silver medals went to Eugene Althoff, Robert Weikert and Stephen Redding; bronze medals to Thomas Benner, and James Bigham and honorable mention to Wayne Keefer.

Honorary Chapter Farmer awards were presented to George Forney of the high school faculty and G. Henry Roth of The Gettysburg Times.

Miss Adelsberger, as president of the Future Homemakers, presented a gift from that group to their instructor, Miss Schwartz. Bruce Baker, president of the Future Farmers, who served as toastmaster, presented gifts from the chapter to the two agriculture teachers, Mr. Schriver and Mr. Glenn.

HEAR SCHRIVER TALK

The welcome was given by Miss Adelsberger and the response by her mother, Mrs. Glenn Adelsberger. Philip Hill gave the invocation. Richard C. Lighter, area advisor of vocational agriculture praised the two organizations, as did Morris Quint, principal of the Gettysburg Area Senior High School who said that "several of those whom you saw receiving student honors here tonight will also be named to the National Honor Society."

The program concluded with a talk by Mr. Schriver on agriculture and life in Russia and Poland, illustrated by slides he took last summer on a people-to-people tour of Europe, including Russia.

General Says S. Viet Nam Can Beat Its Red Foes

By MALCOLM W. BROWNE

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Gen. Harold K. Johnson wound up a one-week visit to this war-torn nation today and said he believes that, with continued American help, South Viet Nam can defeat its Viet Cong foes.

"Freedom is on the line here," the U.S. Army chief of staff told newsmen. "I hope very much, I believe very much, that we can make freedom prevail through the joint efforts of the countries interested in preserving freedom, especially the Republic of Viet Nam and the United States."

MORE STRIKES

U.S. and South Vietnamese warplanes staged more secret strikes from the Da Nang airbase as Johnson and his staff headed back to Washington from the mission which he said was to "look, listen and learn." There was no disclosure of the airmen's targets.

Various sources close to the Johnson mission have reported that items under study included commitment of U.S. combat units, increased bombing of North Viet Nam and even the selection of possible targets for nuclear bombing.

EYE PRELUDE

Some military observers have viewed the recent operation Silver Lance in California as a possible prelude to a large-scale movement of U.S. combat troops into Viet Nam. In its opening phase, Silver Lance resembled the landing of 3,500 U.S. Marines early this week for guard duty at the Da Nang base, 380 miles northwest of Saigon. In its final phase the maneuver involved the landing of the equivalent of a full division.

Another subject reported to have received attention was the possibility of imposing military censorship or some variant of this on news correspondents serving in Viet Nam.

Junior Troop 965 will not hold a rummage sale April 10 as previously announced.

DRIVERS CHARGED

Hanover police have charged the following with motor code violations: Edward J. Little, 21, Gettysburg R. 4, illegal turning; Nancy A. Reynolds, 20, York Springs R. 1, failure to obey traffic signal; Elmer F. Humbert, 23, New Oxford; William A. Yealy, 35, McSherrystown, and Mrs. Merle Noble, 28, Gettysburg R. 5, all with speeding; Jones C. Holcomb, 31, New Oxford R. 2, failure to obey traffic signal; Mrs. Bernetta J. Klunk, 24, Littlestown R. 2, speeding; Gerald Detrick, 18, McSherrystown, failure to obey traffic signal; Richard W. Powell, 18, Gettysburg R. 4; Patrick J. Eckenrode, 26, Gettysburg R. 5; James D. Keller, 19, Gettysburg R. 6, and Mrs. Mildred A. Hafer, 46, Abbottstown, all with speeding; Earl H. Anderson, 28, Gettysburg R. 3, illegal turning; Christopher J. Shaffer, 16, McSherrystown, driving without a valid operator's license; Paul F. Markle, 22, New Oxford R. 1, speeding; C. Rex Gilbert, 64, 40 Hanover St., failure to obey traffic signal.

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO

Fire believed caused by a short circuit in the meter and switch box of a ready-mix concrete plant owned by McDermit brothers of Gettysburg, at the John S. Teeter and Sons stone quarry on the Baltimore pike, caused damage estimated at between $2,500 and $3,000 early this morning. The loss is covered by insurance.

Services for re-dedicating the interior of Trinity Evangelical and Reformed Church, Cash-town, will be held Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

The Rev. Clark W. Heller, who served as pastor of the church about 17 years ago, will deliver the sermon.

The sanctuary of the church was completely renovated and redecorated several months ago at a cost of about $2,000.

The United States government announces that on March 27 proposals for the donation or sale of a site suitable for a post office at Littlestown will be opened publicly in the office of the postmaster in Littlestown at 9 a.m. The lots must be one corner lot with 100-foot frontage by 170-foot depth and an interior lot with 120-foot frontage and 170-foot depth.

The Phi Sigma Kappa fraternity will hold its 25th anniversary banquet Saturday evening at 5:30 p.m. at St. James Lutheran church, with J. Aze Miller, Mayport, Pa., a graduate of the class of 1927 at Gettysburg college as toastmaster, and Dr. Paul Y. Livingston, pastor of the Church of St. Andrew, Richmond Hill, N.Y., as principal speaker.

The local chapter of the fraternity, formerly the Druids, was organized here in 1897. It became a national fraternity on March 13, 1925.

Lt. Col. Raymond L. Wisler, of Gettysburg, assigned to the 19th Air Force service command stationed at Olmsted Field, Mid-dletown, has been called or a short tour of active duty to attend the Intelligence school at Lowry Air Force base, Denver, Colo.

Approximately 300 attended the public sale held Thursday by Edgar Weaner, Harrisburg road. Forty Holstein cows and a large amount of farm machinery was sold by auctioneer Austin Backun of Mexico, N.Y. All but five of the cattle were sold to out-of-county buyers with the purchasers present from Lancaster county, Hershey, Harrisburg, Va., and other parts of the country. While announcing no prices Weaner noted that the sale was "successful."

The mortgage on the Alpha Tau Omega fraternity's property, carried since 1905, was burned Saturday night at the fraternity's annual Founder's Day banquet at the Shetter House.

Since the original mortgage was taken out, the ATO house burned down in 1914, was rebuilt in 1915 and remodeled in 1928. Dr. John B. Zinn, Gettysburg, was singled out as the man who had the major part in the driving for the reduction and liquidation of the mortgage.

Mervin E. Crouse, 65, of 324 York street, well-known lodge-mason and fireman, died suddenly Sunday morning at 3 o'clock. Dr. C. G. Crist, Adams county coroner, investigated and attributed death to coronary occlusion. Mr. Crouse had previously suffered a heart attack

RIGHT AND REASON

Right and Reason are wise old birds.

Precise is over their choice of words.

Maxims they phrase of what's best to do

To come to the happiness all pursue,

But ever the many of earth explain

Love must be more than just safe and sane.

Right and Reason are cold and stern.

"No lane so long but must somewhere turn."

"Look," they counsel, "before you leap!

Out of each dollar a portion keep!"

But the many of earth say love takes wings

When it gives up doing some foolish things.

Right and Reason are hard as steel.

The pangs of another they seldom feel.

"Pity," they say, "is misunderstood,

And often it does more harm than good!"

But the many insist that devotion dies

The minute it thinks that it must be wise.

Time Is Critical Factor In Battle To Beat World Famine Specter By Science

EDITOR'S NOTE — In a dramatic race against time, scientists everywhere are seeking ways to increase the world's food supply before the hungry of the earth rebel. The big question: Is there time? The following last of five articles explores what is being done to solve the food problem.

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

Modern technology knows how to turn back the menacing specter of widespread famine. The big question is this: Is there time?

Thermeans are available. But the economies of the hungry nations are so laggard that it will take much time for them to develop the ability to absorb and distribute what the West can produce.

Western scientists consider the problem urgent. Many think that the application of technology to methods of increasing fresh water supplies, reclaiming land destroyed by man's waste and avarice, and to closing the "protein gap" offer hope for the future.

COSTLY CONSEQUENCES

Time, the experts stress over and over, is the critical element. They add that consequences to northern civilization can be extremely costly if the famine menace in the hungry world is not averted.

The problems are staggering. Science is attacking them determinedly with such things as availability of fresh water, availability of tillable land, large-scale production and distribution of fertilizer — and production of synthetic foods.

Blessed by abundance, people in the rich North Atlantic world seldom ponder how precious a commodity is water, how much is needed to produce food.

16 TONS PER BU.

Crops & Soils, an American agronomists' publication, cites findings of U.S. experts that it takes 16 tons of water to produce a bushel of corn, 64 tons for a bushel of soybeans. Prof. J. R. A. MacMillan, dean of the agriculture faculty at Sydney (Australia) University, estimates it takes a ton of water to produce one egg; 2.5 tons for a loaf of bread, 15 tons for a gallon of milk, by the time all the natural processes are completed.

RATIO CHANGING

Petroleum researchers have plunged into the problem of increasing world food supplies. Already, petroleum research has played a huge part in the rich world's agricultural revolution. Today, the average American farm worker produces enough to feed 28 persons. Fifty years ago he could feed only 7.

Only about 3.3 billion acres in the world produce food. It requires half an acre to feed one person at subsistence level. The margin is slim and grows slimmer as population increases by 180,000 a day.

Underdeveloped areas have billions of arid acres. A little moisture could make much difference. There is moisture under the sand, but winds shift it too much to permit vegetation to take hold. Test areas are being coated with a petroleum product to hold sand in place until vegetation can reach the moisture-bearing soil and take root. Potentially, the deserts can bloom.

WORK ON RAINMAKING

The industry is working on rainmaking. Rain comes from clouds formed by moist air being deflected upwards by hills. Scientists, on the principle that dark surfaces retain heat, create "thermal mountains" by coating strips of coastal land with black asphalt. Surface temperatures increase. Warm air rises to create conditions like those which would be created by mountains.

Such processes as desalting water by atomic or other means remain expensive, but are the sources of rising hopes.

Standard Oil of New Jersey and others, much involved in experiments with land reclamation and food research, also have aimed their sights at the "protein gap."

LIMITLESS POSSIBILITIES

Micro-organisms, when fed selected hydrocarbons of high purity, flourish and reproduce. These are killed and dried, transformed into a white powder like dried milk, virtually tasteless. This, scientists say, can be used as an additive in many foods. It is described as high in protein content, containing substantial quantities of B vitamins and all the essential amino acids for animal or human nutrition.

Scientists say the process can produce protein 2,500 times as fast as plants and animals at one-fifth or less the cost of meat proteins. The supply could be almost limitless. Scientists say three million tons of protein can be produced from one percent of the present paraffinic crude oil production. Thus, the process could go a long way toward closing the "protein gap."

The process has been tested on animals, found safe, and highly nutritious. It needs approval by governments for human use, plus acceptance abroad of an unfamiliar product, always more a problem in poor than in developed areas.

LAUNCH MANY EFFORTS

Ordinary sources of protein — milk, eggs, fish, meat and certain vegetables — are expensive, and protein alone is not enough. The body also needs the energy yield of minerals and vitamins. But protesting malnutrition is the No. 1 problem and the costliest to overcome.

Many attacks are being launched against the food problem — experiments with distribution of flavored soybeans, with oilseed cakes, use of fish meal, food from the sea in the form of plankton and algae, and experiments with various other sources of nutrition.

The problems are many, however. One is to bring a protein supply within the economic reach of hungry countries. This seems to require economic development of poorer countries, and that takes precious time.

There are other problems, among the most important of which is that of international cooperation. But the stakes are big, especially in a world witnessing a struggle between two philosophies of life.

"Abolishing hunger," Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman said not long ago, "is in the self-interest of the American people. Abolishing hunger can be the crowning achievement of democracy."

But — is there time?

HOLDOUT LIST IS DWINDLING IN THE MAJORS

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The list of unsatisfied major league baseball players was dwindling fast today following the signing of veteran shortstop Luis Aparicio by the Baltimore Orioles and southpaw Jim Kaat by the Minnesota Twins.

When Kaat signed for an estimated $26,000 Thursday and the 30-year-old Aparicio agreed to a salary of about $40,000, only four first-line players remained unsigned.

Still trying to get together with their bosses are Richie Allen, the Phillies' sensational third base rookie last season; veteran outfielder Wes Covington, also of Philadelphia, and Felix Torres, Los Angeles Angels third baseman. Of course, there also is Pittsburgh's Roberto Clemente, but he is at his Puerto Rico home convalescing from malaria fever.

ALLEN NO NEARER

Kaat, who had been training at Orlando, Fla., but not with the Twins, received a raise of some $8,500 over last season, when he posted a 17-11 record and a 3.22 earned run average.

Aparicio based his demand for more money on a 1964 record of a career high of 10 homers, a batting average of .266 and finishing No. 1 in the American League in stolen bases for the ninth straight season. He stole 57 last year.

The Phillies and Allen and Covington remained far apart. Most of the other clubs were all set for the first full-scale schedule of exhibition games Saturday.

MANTLE HOMERS

Cleveland launched its spring-training agenda in Mexico Tuesday night and Thursday the New York Yankees, using their home-run trademark to an advantage, whipped the Washington Senators 4-3 at Pompano Beach, Fla.

Mickey Mantle, batting in the leadoff spot, and Elston Howard, in the No. 3 slot, cracked out home runs to provide three of the Yanks' runs.

NHL HAS PLANS FOR EXPANSION

By TED MEIER

Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The National Hockey League, which hasn't had a franchise change in 23 years, laid the groundwork Thursday to expand from a six-team to a 12-team league in possibly two years.

Four U.S. cities, New York, Chicago, Detroit and Boston, along with two in Canada, Montreal and Toronto, form the current league setup which has endured since 1942.

The groundwork was laid at the meeting of the league's board of governors and is the first time concrete steps have been taken toward expansion although such plans have been discussed for several years.

"The NHL proposes to expand its operations through the formation of a second six-team division," Clarence Campbell, NHL president, said after the meeting. "Applications will be accepted from responsible groups representing major league cities in the United States and Canada and when six new teams are accepted the new division will be incorporated into the league."

Campbell said no definite time limit had been set for the expansion program although it was indicated the 1967 season would be the earliest to be considered.

Delone In Big PCIAA Playoff Tonight At 8

Delone Catholic High School's basketball squad left by bus from McSherrystown this morning at 9 o'clock for Wilkes-Barre where the Squires will meet Kingston Catholic at 8 o'clock tonight on the Coughlin High School floor in an interdiocesan PCIAA Class A playoff game.

The Squires, 16-7 overall, won the Central Penn Catholic League title to become the Harrisburg Diocesan representative in the playoffs. Kingston, with a 12-game winning streak and 21-1 record, is the Scranton Diocesan representative as the result of winning the Central Catholic League title.

At least five busloads of Delone students were scheduled to leave later today for Wilkes-Barre.

The winner of tonight's game is scheduled to meet Allentown Central in the eastern regional final.

QUINN IS ONLY YANK ON LIST FOR AN 'OSCAR'

LONDON (AP) — The fact he is the only American nominated for an Oscar as best actor this year is a source of pleasure to Anthony Quinn.

"It means," he said in an interview, "that I'm accepted as an American at last. The Americans regard me as one of themselves. That's the most exciting thing that's ever happened to me."

Quinn won his Oscar nomination for "Zorba, the Greek," a movie he says was made with "spirit and love and a little talent" and of which he owns one-third. The movie has collected seven Oscar nominations in various categories.

TOUGH COMPETITION

Quinn's rivals for the leading actor award are British — Peter Sellers, Rex Harrison, Richard Burton and Peter O'Toole.

Quinn was asked why his position as the only American in the list was so exciting to him. Outside the United States he has always been taken for American.

"My mother was Mexican," he said, "and my father was Irish. As a kid in Los Angeles I always had to decide whether to fight for the Mexicans or the Irish. But I always thought of myself as American. I mean, I'd lived there all my life. It never occurred to me that I was anything else."

GLAD TO OWN HIM

"Then in 1947 I wanted to come to Europe and they told me I wasn't entitled to a passport because I was a Mexican. It shattered me. It was like finding out your parents had adopted you."

"I took out American citizenship papers right away. But it wasn't the same. Ever since, I've felt like a guest in America."

Now he finds that the Americans not only accept him — but claim him. He's their only representative in the Oscar list for leading actors.

ERIE, Pa. (AP) — An all-star college basketball game involving seniors from Pennsylvania, Ohio and New York will be played at Gannon College here March 27.

The Support Our Sports Club of Erie, which will sponsor the game, said Thursday it will be an annual event. Proceeds will go to charity.

TERRE HAUTE, Ind. (AP) — Two Minnesota schools, St. Cloud and Moorhead, each sent six qualifiers into the quarter-finals today of the NAIA wrestling tournament at Indiana State University.

St. Cloud took the lead with 14 points Thursday as 230 preliminary matches opened the three-day meet. Moorehead, defending champion, and Bloomsburg, Pa., tied for second with 13 points.

GUN BOW AND CANDY SPOTS SHIFT RIVALRY

By ORLO ROBERTSON

Associated Press Sports Writer

Gun Bow and Candy Spots shift their rivalry from California to Florida and Kentucky Derby hopefuls put their records on the line in the three richest stakes in Saturday's horse racing program.

Gun Bow, runner-up to Kelso for 1964 Horse of the Year but not exactly a ball of fire this year, and Candy Spots, never worse than second in five 1965 starts, meet in the 1 1/4 mile $50,000-added Donn Handicap at Gulfstream Park.

The 3-year-olds go in the seven furlongs of the $75,000-added Governor's Gold Cup on the final day of the Bowie meeting and the 1 1/4 miles of the $40,000-added Louisiana Derby at the Fair Grounds.

The Donn, run over the grass at 1 1/4 miles for the previous six years, is expected to attract no more than seven starters. Candy Spots, who arrived at Gulfstream Wednesday from Santa Anita, is the highweight under 127 pounds. Candy Spots picks up 125.

In two California races the pair broke even. Gun Bow beat Candy Spots in the San Antonio but the Rex Ellsworth colt was ahead of the Gedeon Farm 5-year-old as he ran second to Hill Rise in the Santa Anita Handicap.

CAN CLINCH WEST TITLE

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Los Angeles can clinch the title in the National Basketball Association's Western Division tonight while the Boston Celtics who already have hold of the Eastern crown can set a record for victories in a season.

The Lakers assured themselves of at least a tie by defeating Baltimore 121-116 in overtime Thursday night. The Celtics tied their own record of 60 victories with a 112-100 victory over Detroit. St. Louis kept its Western hopes alive, edging San Francisco 101-99.

Los Angeles, which meets San Francisco tonight, outlasted the Bulls behind the scoring of Jerry West. The Lakers' ace struck for 14 straight points, starting with three minutes left in regulation time.

Until West got started, the Bulls led 102-100. Regulation time ended with the teams tied at 107. West, held to three points in the first half, erupted for 35 the rest of the way and finished with 38.

Hope Arabs Will Keep German Tie

WASHINGTON (AP) — The State Department says it hopes the Arab countries "will find a way to maintain friendly relations with the government of West Germany."

Press officer Marshall Wright was asked to comment on a reported statement by United Arab Republic President Gamel Abdel Nasser that his republic would recognize East Germany if West Germany established formal relations with Israel.

Wright said the United States, Great Britain and France have agreed that the West German government is the "only German government freely and legitimately constituted, and therefore entitled to speak for the German people in international affairs."

BIG SCHEDULE ON PIAA CARD THIS EVENING

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Lef Blum's field goal in the final three seconds provided Waymart with a 55-53 victory over Elkland Thursday night and advanced the Warriors into the Eastern finals of the PIAA Class C basketball playoffs.

The interschool game, played before 1,800 fans at the civic youth center in Carbondale, was the only playoff action scheduled as most of the state's top schoolboy cage teams took a breather.

A full slate of games is slated for tonight in both PIAA and PCIAA (Catholic).

TIED UP LATE

Blum's winning goal came after Joe Carbone's field goal tied the game for Elkland at 53-53 with 17 seconds to play. Blum had entered the game with only 36 seconds remaining when teammate Ronnie Owens fouled out.

For the Warriors, District 12 champions, it was their 22nd win of the season against one loss. For the losing Rams (Dist. 4), it was their third defeat in 25 games.

Waymart will meet Lykens (Dist. 3) for the Eastern title Monday night at the Wilkes College gym.

TONIGHT'S CARD

In action tonight, Darby-Colwyn (Dist. 1) plays Columbia (Dist. 3) at Reading, and Mansfield (Dist. 4) meets Montrose (Dist. 12) at Scranton in the PIAA Class B Eastern semifinals.

Northern Canbria (Dist. 6), will take on Coraopolis, WPAL champ, at Greensburg in a Class B Western semifinal match.

In the PCIAA Eastern regionals, McSherrystown Delone takes on Kingston Catholic at Wilkes-Barre in Class A; Shamokin Lourdes plays Scranton Cathedral at Bloomsburg, Bethlehem Catholic meets Conshohocken St. Matthew at Moravian College in Class B, and Spring Grove St. Francis opposes Williamsport St. Joseph at Montoursville in Class C.

COURT OKAYS TAX MONIES FOR COLLEGES

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP) — The first round of a major attack against tax aid to religious institutions in the United States, including St. Joseph College, Emmitsburg, ended Thursday with a ruling that it is constitutional for Maryland to help contract buildings at church-affiliated colleges.

Circuit Court Judge O. Bowie Duckett said grants of $2.5 million made by the legislature to four religious schools were unconstitutional because their primary effect was not to advance or suppress religion.

He said the grants could not have been allowed if they were "for the construction of a church or chapel at any of the institutions," but that they were intended for classroom and dormitory buildings, "all of a secular nature."

TAXPAYERS BROUGHT SUIT

Lawyers for the 13 Maryland taxpayers who brought the suit said during the trial that they would appeal any adverse decision to the Maryland Court of Appeals and then to the U.S. Supreme Court if necessary.

They had contended that the grants violated restrictions in both the state and federal Constitutions of church-state relations.

"It must be admitted," Duckett wrote, "that regardless of the established law of separation of religion and government that this has never been completely accomplished and would be practically impossible."

He cited a wide range of government involvement with religion, including providing lunches and medical services for parochial schools, chaplains for the military services and tax exemption for religious institutions.

FOUR COLLEGES

The test which must be applied, he said, is "that if either the legislative purpose or the primary effect of the enactment advances or suppresses religion, the legislation is invalid, otherwise, it is valid."

Applying this test to the contested grants, the Anne Arundel County Circuit Court judge said it "seems crystal clear that the Maryland Legislature was in no way concerned with religion in making the appropriation . . ."

The four Maryland colleges involved were Hood College, Frederick, connected with the United Church of Christ; Western Maryland, Westminster, a Methodist school, and St. Joseph and Notre Dame, of Baltimore, Catholic institutions.

While Mount Saint Mary's College, Emmitsburg, was not a party to the court suit, the ultimate decision will also affect it. It also was allocated funds from the state for construction.

SAYS U. S. WILL ENFORCE LAWS IN ALABAMA

WASHINGTON (AP) — Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach says he's ready to enforce any court order forbidding police interference with Selma, Ala., demonstrators seeking to insure Negroes' voting rights.

He does not foreclose the possibility of the government's using federal troops to do so. And he foresees swift federal prosecution of any Alabama state and local officers he feels are responsible for Sunday's bloody violence against Negro demonstrators.

These were the key developments Thursday at the attorney general's first news conference since assuming the nation's top law office Feb. 13.

Referring to a federal court hearing on a suit by Negroes demanding an unsegregated march from Selma to Montgomery, Katzenbach said: "I think our position would be pretty clear. The court issues an order — I would hope and believe that order would be complied with. In the event it was not complied with, it would be enforced."

Katzenbach said he has no doubt federal law was violated in Sunday's demonstration when clubs, horses and tear gas were used to rout the civil rights marchers. He said he referred to a prohibition on officials' acting under the color of law to deprive anyone of constitutional and legal rights.

Delone Athletes Will Be Feted

Jack Krafft, Villanova University basketball coach, will be the main speaker at the first annual all-sports banquet for athletes of Delone Catholic High School to be held Saturday evening, March 27, at 7 o'clock at the Sacred Heart Basilica parish hall, Conewago.

Among the invited guests are Bob Hulton, Gettysburg College basketball coach; Jim Phelan, Mt. St. Mary's coach; Charley Gelbert, baseball coach at Lafayette College, and William "Wee Willie" Sherdel, McSherrystown, a teammate of Gelbert when they were members of the St. Louis Cardinals baseball team.

The banquet is sponsored by the Booster Club of Delone.

TO INDUCT 6 INTO HALL OF FAME TODAY

KANSAS CITY (AP) — A swimming official, a soccer coach, two basketball coaches and two former basketball players will be inducted into the NAIA Hall of Fame today.

The basketball coaches are J. B. Scarce Jr. of Georgia Southern and Sam Hindsman of Arkansas Tech, the former players Harold Wolfe of Findlay, Ohio, and Charles Stickles of Hastings, Neb.

Others honored will be Dr. Harold Henning of Naperville, Ill., chairman of the U.S. Olympic men's swimming committee, and James Egli, soccer and swimming coach at Slippery Rock, Pa., State for eight years and the man responsible for the growth of soccer in the NAIA program.

EGLI NOT THERE

Henning, who coached swimming at North Central College nine years, has been chairman of the National AAU men's swimming committee since 1960. Egli wasn't able to attend the program.

Scarce has a 331-161 won-lost record for his 18 years at Georgia Southern and his lifetime record is 452-222. Hindsman has a 348-121 record with six perfect regular seasons since he took over at Arkansas Tech in 1947. His lifetime coaching record is 387-130.

Wolfe scored 1,702 points in his career at Findlay. He set an NAIA tourney record of 25 field goals in one game in 1953. The mark still stands. Stickles scored 1,764 points at Hastings, was a football standout and played in the Chicago Cub baseball farm system.

DOUG FORD 7 UNDER PAR

MIAMI (AP) — "I didn't have the confidence in my play that I've had in the last few days," Doug Sanders said Thursday after a record-shattering round over the Doral Country Club's long, tough golf course.

He must have been kidding, because when he shot the seven-under-par 65 in the opening round of the $70,000 Doral Invitational, Sanders did something that few golfers have done in the last couple of years.

He not only broke a two-year victory drought last week at Pensacola, and did it under the pressure of a sudden-death playoff with Jack Nicklaus, but he came back in his next tournament with a magnificent, front-running first-round performance.

Despite his great round, Sanders still had his work cut out for him.

Jack McGowan and George Knudson were only two strokes back and Pete Cooper, Bruce Devlin, Dave Marr, Charley Sifford, Chick Harbert and Bob Shave trailed by three.

Nicklaus had a 70, and Gary Player was even further away at 71.

DICK TIGER IS PICKED TO WIN

NEW YORK (AP) — Agins' Dick Tiger, still determined to get a shot at the middleweight title he lost to Joey Giardello, is a 3-1 favorite to whip Rocky, Rocky Rivero of Argentina in a 10-rounder at Madison Square Garden tonight.

Teddy Brenner, the Garden's matchmaker, said positively "Tiger will get a shot at Giardello if he wins. Giardello told me he wants it and we have a spot for it in May."

Tiger, however, said "all I've heard so far are rumors. I want the title fight most of all and I hope to clinch it by defeating Rivero."

The Nigerian lost the 160-pound-division crown to Giardello on a 15-round decision at Atlantic City Dec. 7, 1963.

Rivero and Tiger contracted to fight at 169 pounds, give or take a pound. The paunchy, 28-year-old Argentine has been working hard all week to pare down from 178 pounds.

know the love of Christ which surpasses knowledge." Ephesians 3:17b, 18, and 19a.

The cross is the symbol of Christianity because the death of Jesus Christ on a cross is the core and the heart of our faith. Why does the cross play such a significant role in our Christian faith? Why was it necessary for Jesus to die on a cross? The cross has revealed the love of Christ in four dimensions. The Apostle Paul writes in his letter to the Ephesians: "That you, being rooted and grounded in love, may have power to comprehend with all the saints what is the breadth and length and height and depth, and to know the love of Christ which surpasses knowledge."

"GAVE ONLY SON"
The breadth of the love of God in Christ is proved to us by its all-inclusiveness. In John 3:16 we are reminded that "God so loved the world that He gave His only Son, that whoever believes in Him should not perish but have eternal life."

The death of Christ on the cross was and is for all men. It was for the thief on the cross, for the Roman centuries who witnessed the crucifixion, for Mary Magdalene, and even for Christ's enemies who were responsible for His death. Regardless of how terrible or how hideous our sins are, they can be forgiven if we sincerely believe that Jesus died for us.

The cross also reveals the length of Christ's love. "Greater love has no man than this, that a man lay down his life for his friends." (John 15:13). The cross is really the "last word" in self-giving and sacrifice.

Just as it was the symbol of self-sacrifice for Christ, so it is for us his followers. Sincere belief in the death of Jesus Christ has the power to change our direction from self-centered living to God-centered living.

DEPTHS OF LOVE
The cross proves the depth of Christ's love. It is as deep as human need - as deep as the worst sin of man. Jesus Christ gave Himself for a world that was lost in the depths of sin. God has come to our rescue by the death of His Son on the cross for us. "While we were yet helpless, at the right time Christ died for the ungodly." (Romans 5:6)

Finally the cross of Christ proves the height of His love. It demonstrates a love as high as the love of God, Himself. I John 4:9 and 10 reads: "In this the love of God was made manifest among us, that God sent His only Son into the world; so that we might live through Him. In this is love, not that we loved God but that He loved us and sent His son to be the expiation for our sins." Actually Christ's work on the cross is a fact that is difficult to explain. It must be accepted by faith. Paul says that "the reaching of the cross is to them that perish foolishness; but unto us which are saved, it is the power of God." (1 Corinthians 1:18)

"GREAT DIVIDE"
In the state of Colorado in the highest ridges of the Rocky Mountains is a place called the "Continental Divide." It is a natural watershed which divides the mountain waters either east toward the Atlantic Ocean or west toward the Pacific Ocean. When we come to the hill of Calvary, we find another Great Divide - a parting of the ways. The cross automatically divides people into two classes: (1) Believers and (2) Unbelievers - those who accept Christ and those who reject Him. Once we have heard the Gospel of the Cross of Christ, the choice is left to us. May we respond favorably to God's gracious invitation extended to us again during this Lenten season, that we with Paul may be able "to comprehend with all the saints what is the breadth and length and height and depth of the cross, and to know the love of Christ which surpasses knowledge." May we believe (in the words of the negro spiritual) that the love of God is so high, we can't get over it; so low, we can't get under it; so wide we can't get around it. We must come in at the door.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL
ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

AGENCIES SPAR IN ARGUMENT TO TEND GRAVE

FREDERICKSBURG, Va. (AP) — The question before the court is: Who's in charge at Mary Washington's grave?

"We have taken possession," says Mrs. Earle Ware Sr., head of the Mary Washington Monument Association of Fredericksburg.

"They just took it," retorts Mrs. Jules James of Washington, D.C., head of the National Mary Washington Memorial Association.

The national association has filed suit for repossession — plus $5,000 damages — in U.S. District Court at Richmond.

UNWITTING SUPPORTERS

Adding status to the suit are the names of President Johnson, Chief Justice Earl Warren, and Virginia Gov. Albert S. Harrison Jr. Unwittingly, all three have become members of the cast of characters.

The grave of George Washington's mother, dead these 176 years, lies in a two-acre plot, shaded by stately trees, shadowed by a handsome monument, off downtown Fredericksburg.

For 10 cents, payable at a lodge on the premises, you can get a close-up look at lodge, grass, trees, tomb, and monument.

For 73 years — since a now-disputed property deed of 1891 — Mrs. James' national association controlled the gravesite.

ACCUSED NEGLECT

"They were letting the place go to rack and ruin," says Mrs. Ware. "They let undergrowth and poison ivy spring up. They let the lodge fall into disrepair. The roof leaked and the plaster was falling from the walls."

Not so, says Mrs. James — "We had a very wonderful record. We put up fences, we planted memorial trees, we erected the monument."

And how did President Johnson, Chief Justice Warren, and Gov. Harrison get mixed up in it?

They are trustees of the National Mary Washington Memorial Association and, as such, hold title to the Mary Washington burial plot.

They are not, however, named as parties to the suit. And this fact, says the defense, is grounds for throwing the case out of court, for how could they be bound by any decision?

Publisher's Widow Receives Award

WASHINGTON (AP) — Agnes E. Meyer received in Washington Wednesday night the National Brotherhood Award of the National Conference of Christians and Jews.

The widow of Eugene Meyer, who was chairman of the board of the Washington Post, she was honored for her "distinguished contributions" in the fields of art and letters, education, recreation, housing and medical care and her efforts on behalf of the nation's youth.

Prisoner Must Forfeit Privacy

SANTA ANA, Calif. (AP) — Victor Debs Abston finally got things just about the way he wanted them. But now he has to move.

Abston, 51, who described himself as an atheist, battled to get a separate cell in Orange County Jail. He didn't want to listen to religious services conducted in the main cellblock.

He claimed that being forced to do so violated his constitutional rights. The court agreed.

Now Abston has to give it up. The reason? He was sentenced Wednesday to serve one to 15 years for his ninth conviction on a felony charge — burglary. He has to serve that time in the state prison for men at nearby Chino.

Shopper Suicides At Gun Counter

VENTURA, Calif. (AP) — Gun shop owner Eddie Barnes told police that a man, later identified by officers as John D. Copus, 54, walked into his shop Wednesday and asked to see a derringer.

After examining the pistol he asked Barnes to load it for him. Barnes did, then told him he would have to wait three days for delivery — the time required for registering the gun.

Barnes said Copus told him he couldn't wait that long. Copus put the gun to his head and pulled the trigger, Barnes said. Copus was dead on arrival at Ventura County General Hospital.

IS FURR MALE OR A FEMALE?

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP) — Spencer Furr is all man but legal records say he is a woman.

Furr has been married 13 years, served in the Army, drives for Queen City Trailways and chews on a fat black cigar. He was born Feb. 15, 1922 in Stanley County, N.C.

Or was he?

When he went into the Army in the early 1940s, he discovered that according to records he was a girl, born in 1923.

Furr believes the mistake was made by the doctor who delivered him in 1922. The doctor, reasons Furr, probably forgot to send in the certificate for almost a year. When he did, he forgot whether he had delivered a boy or a girl.

He has compiled evidence of his masculinity and age — his mother's word, an old family Bible, school records indicating he started to school in 1928, and a 1930 census report stating he was an 8-year-old boy.

Furr said the mistake has been corrected in county records at Albemarle but not by the state, though he has a stack of letters several inches thick showing his efforts to straighten things out.

put the gun to his head and pulled the trigger, Barnes said. Copus was dead on arrival at Ventura County General Hospital.

Re-elect Mayor Commies Scored

FLORENCE, Italy (AP) — Florence has a new mayor today and if the face is familiar there's a reason: Lelio Lagorio is the man who was elected Feb. 15, resigned March 3 and was elected again Wednesday night.

With a record like that, Lagorio clearly was the favorite for the job. Only his backing had changed. That and the adjacent the Communists used for him. When the Communists were backing Lagorio, a Socialist, last month, they spoke of him as "the people's choice" and a "true Democratic representative."

Wednesday night, the Communists made such a din he had to forego his speech as they screamed at him words like "Judas," "traitor," "buffoon" and "fascist."

The Cathedral of Ely in England dates from 1083.

TO HOST APRIL SESSION

The annual mother and daughter banquet will be held Wednesday, May 5. All arrangements are in charge of the publicity and public affairs committee composed of Mrs. Robert Morgret, chairman, Mrs. Stanley E. Mummet, Mrs. Kenneth L. Kooz, Mrs. Carl Wantz, Mrs. Robert L. Dillman, Mrs. Glenn Miller, Mrs. Warren Wisotzky, Mrs. Donald Collins, Mrs. Thomas Armacost, Mrs. James L. Witt, Miss Judy Blocher and Miss Dolores Hawk.

The evening's prize was received by Miss Blocher. Refreshments were served by the publicity committee. One guest, Mrs. William R. Keefe, was in attendance.

Mrs. Dean W. Banker announced that the Junior Women will be hostesses for the spring meeting of the Adams County Federation of Women's Clubs on Wednesday, April 21, at a place to be announced. The federation is composed of the Gettysburg and Littlestown Community Clubs and the Junior Women. This will replace the April meeting of the hostess club.

Mercersburg.

Thirty persons attended the second of a series of three meetings of the Senior Citizens Club, sponsored by the Littlestown Inter-service Council on Thursday afternoon in the social room of the Eagles home. A brief business period followed a buffet lunch. There were games with prizes. Election of officers will take place at the next meeting on Thursday, April 8, beginning at 12 noon.

The first Swiss franc was issued in 1949.

Miss Yealy Wins In Essay Contest

Miss Jeanne Yealy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Yealy, Littlestown R. 1, has won second prize of a $50 U. S. savings bond for her essay on "Utopian Highway" written for the annual driver improvement essay contest, sponsored by the Insurance Industry of Pennsylvania.

Her essay was one of 80 written by the pupils of Clayton L. Evans' driver education classes at Littlestown High School. Miss Yealy is a A-B student who lives on a farm. She is active in the Art Club, plays in the band and expects to matriculate at Shipensburg State College.

STEEL TALKS GO ON TODAY

PITTSBURGH (AP)—A company - union progress meeting was called today by negotiators for U.S. Steel Corp., a pace-setter among the "Big 11" companies now bargaining over a contract with the United Steelworkers Union.

It was the first general session involving U.S. Steel since company - union negotiations resumed Tuesday after a two-month recess for the Steelworkers election campaign.

It came a day after the top union and industry bargainers met for the first time in what also was billed as a progress meeting.

Steelworkers President David J. McDonald said the meeting was "to plan procedural matters for next week." The industry declined to comment.

The U.S. Steel talks involve nearly 300 people who have spent the past two days in small groups thrashing out plant-level complaints.

Miss Taylor Flies To Sick Father

LONDON (AP) — Elizabeth Taylor is flying to the bedside of her father, gravely ill in Los Angeles.

"I heard the news at 4 o'clock this morning," said Miss Taylor as she changed planes in London. "They said my father had a stroke and he was seriously ill."

The actress came to London from Dublin, where her husband, Richard Burton, is making a movie. Her direct flight from London to Los Angeles was due there this afternoon.

Miss Taylor's father is Francis Taylor, an art buyer.

Foresees Stronger U. S. Emergence

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson says he believes the United Nations will emerge stronger than ever from its current crisis over finances and peacekeeping.

Stevenson spoke to the Overseas Writers Association Thursday.

Stevenson said the United Nations flourishes on adversity, and after every previous test —

HOUSEWIFE IS WORTH $8,285 IN JOB MARKET

By JOY STILLEY
NEW YORK (AP) — I have just learned from my friendly neighborhood banker that I, along with 29,999,999 of my coworkers, earn $8,285.68 a year at the going rates for all the jobs we hold under the general title of "housewife."

The Chase Manhattan Bank's Economic Research Department has conducted a survey which reveals what tasks the average housewife performs daily, the number of hours she spends on each, and the rate of pay for these jobs on the labor market.

Their statistics show that America's 30 million homemakers are worth $159.34 a week on the hoof, which is usually where they are during the 99.6 hours they're on the job. As one of that number, I take issue with some of their figures.

FOOD BUYER RATE

In the role of food buyer I may indeed spend 3.3 hours a week at the rate of $1.50 an hour, for a total of $4.95. But shouldn't I get overtime pay for the extra minutes I spend licking the trading stamps?

For the job of nursemaid — 44.5 hours at $1.25 per — I'm entitled to $55.63. I no longer have any little ones around, but we wives who play nursemaid to boys over 40 surely deserve a bonus.

That total of $9.30 for 6.2 hours of dishwashing must be for those who have an army of little kilowatts helping out. I'm a strictly nonautomatic dishwasher myself, and I spend much longer than that acquiring my rose-colored detergent hands.

NOT A SEAMSTRESS

In all honesty, I'll have to return the check for $3.25 I'm allowed as seamstress at $2.50 an hour. Even if I could sew, I'd find some way to keep from spending 1.3 hours a week at it.

Being a cook for 13.1 hours a week at $2.50 an hour sounds about right. But why don't we just take that $32.75 it adds up to and eat out?

Also on the list are dietitian, housekeeper, laundress, practical nurse, maintenance man, gardener and chauffeur, but in our household I have numerous other positions the bank economists never even thought of.

ACCOUNTANT FEES?

I'm not sure how much certified public accountants are getting these days, but I spend quite a few potentially golden moments making the bank balance come out even, keeping records and figuring out how to rob Peter to pay Paul.

My part-time job as a psychiatrist should bring in additional revenue. Every night my husband comes home, lies down on the couch and starts telling me his problems.

I spend more than half an hour every morning in a very specialized job, trying to get my husband out of bed. I don't know what the pay scale is for human alarm clocks, but my task is getting harder and more time-consuming every day.

Meanwhile, Chase Manhattan, get that $8,285.68 check ready for me. I'll stop in on my coffee break to pick it up.

Thailand Fails To Plan Peace Talks

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaysia (AP)—The Malaysian Foreign Ministry announced Thursday that quiet efforts by Thailand to bring Malaysian Prime Minister Tunku Abdul Rahman and Indonesian President Sukarno to the conference table have fallen through.

"No plausible reason has been given," the ministry said, "and so it can only be assumed that Indonesia is not prepared to stop her acts of aggression against Malaysia."

Dad Mad At Boys For Shearing Son

PEMBROKE, N.Y. (AP) — Fifteen classmates dragged Jeffrey Wetmore, 15, into a school classroom and changed his hair style from a Beatle cut to a brush cut, the boy's father complains.

The father, Melvin, sought warrants for the arrest of the boys in this community east of Buffalo.

The court reserved decision.

Council Criticizes Viet Nam Policy

GENEVA (AP) —The World Council of Churches sharply criticized U.S. policy in Viet Nam Thursday and suggested that Southeast Asian countries not involved in the struggle there be asked to mediate.

A statement issued by the council's Commission on International Affairs called U.S. measures to offset Communist infiltration in Viet Nam futile. It said they only risk the danger of escalating the conflict.

The statement was prepared by the commission's chairman, Sir Kenneth Grubb of London; and its director, Dr. O. Frederick Nolde of New York. It was endorsed by the World Council, which represents more than 200 Protestant, Anglican and Orthodox churches in some 80 countries.

Italian Students State Rome Protest

ROME (AP) — More than 300 physical education students did a little political exercise in downtown Rome Wednesday.

They stretched out on the street in front of the Parliament building, dodged policemen trying to bundle them into vans, then double-timed for a mile while a traffic jam piled up behind them.

The purpose of the exercise was to protest a government bill that would give full status as teachers of physical education to graduates of a crash three-month course. The strikers are taking a three-year course to get their teacher's certificates.

TOWN CHEERS "DEAD" FRIEND

ROANOKE, Va. (AP) — His loved ones and his friends today were welcoming Bobby Martin home, as it were, from the dead.

They had come to bury him. But when the body arrived from Louisiana, a friend of Bobby's who works in a funeral home saw it was not Robert Wade Martin Jr., 22. Bobby was supposed to have been shot to death in a store burglary in Tallulah, La.

The friend called Bobby's father and he called Bobby at his job in Houston, Tex.

When his father told him the story, Bobby said he decided to quit his job and head home as soon as he hung up the phone.

Bobby's wallet and some of his clothes had been stolen from him. His wallet was found on the shooting victim, later identified as an 18-year-old Houston youth.

Bobby got a VIP welcome home at Woodrum Airport.

Gettysburg, Pa.
Dear Editor:

The Gettysburg Times has published the Semke letter sent to you a few days ago. I hope this newspaper will likewise publish the rebuttal to that letter.

Francis Worley is everybody's representative, and as such he tries to be fair to all of us. He is not controlled by a few big-mouthed persons nor the rich alone. He is the representative for all of us. Let no one try to tarnish his noble acts for the people. House Bill No. 111 to repeal the $300 fee on every junk pile is right. What farmer or citizen wants an imposition of $300 fine or fee for every junk pile. There are too many taxes now. Francis Worley is helping to hold the taxes down.

LUCILLE BALL BRINGS LOTS OF HATS ALONG

NEW YORK (AP) — Lucille Ball, who wears more hats than a milliner's model, had all of them along during a week's busy stay in New York.

The red-haired comedienne of CBS' "The Lucy Show" wore her television-star hat during conferences with her long-time performing sidekick, Vivian Vance, about returning to the series for another season.

Prospects at the moment look pretty good, although Vivian for the past year has reduced her participation in the series and originally wanted to bow out entirely next season.

SIMPLE PROBLEM

The problem is quite simple: Vivian is married to John Dodds, a New York literary agent and they make their home in southern Connecticut. Vivian's work made her almost a weekly commuter to Hollywood.

Lucy also occasionally wore her good-works hat — she's the active chairman of the Easter Seals campaign on behalf of crippled children. So she has been making personal appearances to stimulate contributions to the cause — including a 45-minute talk with President Johnson in Washington.

Then, a lot of the time, there was the executive chapeau. Miss Ball is the active president of Desilu Studios and in this role she was trying to sell three new television series her studio has developed. So far, although there has been considerable interest, none has found a network berth for next season.

"How do you sell a show to a

Says Bomb Force Could Stop War

WASHINGTON (AP) — Thomas S. Power, a retired Air Force general who once headed the Strategic Air Command, says a few SAC bombers could end the war in Viet Nam successfully in a few days by dropping heavy loads of conventional bombs on major military targets in North Viet Nam.

Power makes this statement in his newly published book "Design for Survival."

"We would have continued this strategy until the Communists had found their support of the rebels in South Viet Nam too expensive and agreed to stop it," he says.

"Thus, within a few days and with minimum force, the conflict in South Viet Nam would have ended in our favor."

network?" she asked almost sadly. "I used to be naive, I guess, and thought that if you just made a good show, somebody would see it and buy it. I now know there's more to it than that."

Lucy also wore her radio-star hat. She totes a portable tape recorder with her most places. When she meets someone she suspects might prove interesting, she sits them down and conducts a short interview. Ultimately, some of these taped conversations find their way onto her daily CBS radio program.

Lucy and her husband, Gary Morton, flew south this week for a week of sun and surf in Florida.

OFFICER DIED LEADING DRIVE IN CONG ATTACK

By EDWIN G. WHITE
SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Lt. Dempsey H. Williams died while leading a charge on a hill held by the Viet Cong, men from the attacking unit said Thursday.

One of these men said Williams and another U.S. Marine adviser, Maj. William G. Leftwich Jr., were out in front of the Vietnamese marines they were serving with when they were cut down by concentrated fire from the Communists on the crest of the hill.

Leftwich, 33, whose wife, Jane, lives at Memphis, Tenn., was wounded in the cheek by a bullet and was taken to a field hospital at Nha Trang.

Williams' wife, Judy, lives at Baltimore, Md.

REPORT CASUALTIES
U.S. military spokesmen said 63 Viet Cong and 18 South Vietnamese soldiers were killed in the action near the mountain town of Hoai An, 285 miles northeast of Saigon.

Reports from the scene told this story:

Before dawn Tuesday, the Viet Cong overran three outposts outside Hoai An, in the Binh Dinh district, an area of recent heavy Viet Cong activity.

A battalion of Vietnamese marines was sent to reinforce the area. Williams and Leftwich, their advisers, moved in with them.

Under a cloudy sky, they entered a valley village where only young children and old people could be found. Some were questioned, but no information was obtained.

HIT BY AMBUSH

The marines moved out of the village and started to cross a river on a bamboo bridge. About one company had crossed when firing broke out from a hill overlooking the bridge.

A call went out for air support and five Vietnamese skyraiders made strafing runs on the hill. The planes silenced the Viet Cong, and the marines charged over the hill. They plunged down into a small valley, started up a second hill and again came under heavy fire.

The two Americans moved out in front of the Vietnamese and headed the assault up the second hill. Williams was hit in the chest.

Leftwich was hit and went down but continued to use his radio to contact other units and urge them into the attack. The remainder of the battalion charged the hill and the high ground was taken.

Leftwich is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William G. Leftwich Sr., Germantown, Tenn.

Bonn Not Ready To Accept Offer

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — President Habib Bourguiba of Tunisia said Thursday he had information that West Germany would not recognize Israel because Bonn "is not ready to accept Israel's conditions."

Bourguiba said Israel demanded a resumption of arms shipments to Israel and postponement of the effective date of the statute of limitations on Nazi war murderers.

The Tunisian president, speaking at a news conference, did not give the source of his information or further details.

A report Wednesday from Jerusalem said the Israeli government is ready to open full

SCHOOL GIVES ONE-ACT PLAY OF EX-CONVICT

By STEPHENS BROENING
TOWSON, Md. (AP) — Lots of college freshmen try their hands at play writing, but few can write a one-act drama about prison life from personal experience.

Lester Franklin can. At 29, he has spent half his life behind bars: first as a truant sent to reform school, then as a burglar and most recently as a parole violator and holdup man.

His play, "The Promise," was begun in prison. It will be presented for the first time tonight by his fellow students at Towson State College.

DESCRIBES CONFLICT

Wednesday night the stocky, full-bearded Franklin talked about the play and himself.

In prison, he said, "there is constant conflict among the inmates. Many of them are wrapped up in their own petty concerns. The tension is unbelievable."

"You can never fully express yourself, either to the prison administration, or to your fellow inmates."

"Inmates don't reveal their honest feelings even to their own buddies because most of them have a tremendous sense of inadequacy and put on an act of some kind to compensate for it."

SHOWS TENSION

"But it's the tension — and the waiting — that I try to show in 'The Promise.' Everyone in prison is waiting for something, and they're not always sure just what it is."

"We are all bored to death and everything we do is a reaction to this boredom."

Franklin says he started the play last year partly to overcome the boredom and partly to indulge a passion for writing.

He showed the play to Robert Levin, a Towson State drama instructor who gives a weekly course at the State Penitentiary. Levin in turn showed it to Dr. C. Richard Gillespie, head of the Towson drama department. Gillespie wanted to produce it.

ADMITTED TO COLLEGE

Out of this exchange came Franklin's application to enroll at the college. The self-taught prisoner — he had only seven years of formal education — scored in the 98th percentile on his entrance exams. Only 2 per cent of those taking the test scored higher.

He was released from the penitentiary last December and started school in February.

Franklin says the old life has gone.

"When your aim is just to take something from life, you evade the real question of living. You try to fill up your life with every extraneous bit of trash you can find."

relations with West Germany if arrangements can be made to supply it the $16 million worth of arms the Bonn government withheld.

Accuses De Gaulle Lust For Power

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Stuart Symington accused French President Charles de Gaulle Thursday of using "the crowbar and the hammer to destroy the hopes of Western civilization."

The Missouri Democrat, in a statement prepared for delivery on the Senate floor, said he has been an admirer of the general.

But, Symington said, De Gaulle's greatness "is being tarnished by his efforts, at the expense of his friends and allies, to attain world power for his nation."

SCRANTON NOT PLEASED WITH MILK DEALERS

HARRISBURG (AP) — Gov. Scranton said Thursday that refusal of 18 milk dealers to answer subpoenas in the state's milk probe was a tactical error on their part.

"Even if it was legal, and I doubt it, this was the worst possible approach the dealers could have taken," Scranton said at his weekly news conference. "It gives the impression to the public that there is something there that needs to be investigated."

The dealers refused to appear as the state investigation went into the public hearing stage this week in Pittsburgh. The probe was ordered several weeks ago following published reports of alleged kickbacks between some milk cooperatives and dealers.

The governor said he had no preferences between the House and Senate versions of legislation to provide limited tax-paid bus transportation for private and parochial school children. Scranton quoted the Justice Department that the two bills are equally good, adding:

"Since they are legally the same, it makes no difference which comes to my desk."

Other highlights: Philadelphia judges — The governor confirmed that he reached an agreement with Francis R. Smith, Philadelphia Democratic chairman, that includes creation of 10 new judgeships and equal distribution of judicial jobs. But he said the whole thing is contingent on Smith's support of 11 sitting judges in the fall elections.

Delaware County judge — Scranton said he is inclined to forego making an appointment to fill a court vacancy in Delaware County court because an appointee could serve only until next January. The position would be put up for election in November.

"There is a possibility I will not name a judge there," he said. "The people ought to have a choice."

Medical care — Scranton said some type of national legislation is needed to supplement the Kerr-Mills plan, but he said he feels it should be financed out of regular government funds rather than through a payroll tax.

CLAIMS FRAUD IN ELECTION

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Last April's Democratic primary election in Philadelphia was fraudulent, the U.S. Justice Department has advised U.S. Atty. Drew J.T. O'Keefe in a four-page letter released Thursday.

There was "evidence of conspiracies among ward leaders and committeemen to make false certification of returns," Nathaniel E. Cossack, head of the department's criminal fraud division, wrote. A file 10 inches thick — single spaced — of reports by FBI agents and other investigators accompanied the letter. O'Keefe was asked to review the evidence and submit his "view and recommendations." Irregularities were alleged in the primary race for the Democratic nomination for U.S. senator. Genevieve Blatt, state secretary of internal affairs, defeated Justice Michael A. Musmanno of the state Supreme Court by a handful of votes in the statewide contest, although Musmanno — backed by most party leaders — easily carried Philadelphia.

Mariner Passes Half-way Mark

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mariner 4, now in its 103rd day of flight, is more than half the way to Mars, the National Aeronautics and Space Administration said Thursday.

The agency said Mariner 4 has already made 16.5 million engineering and scientific measurements and probably will send back another 11 million readings before it flies past Mars July 14.

Feeding The Ball Into Hole Means Playing Intended Line

By KEN VENTURI

U.S. Open Champion

The putter is, without doubt, the most important club in your bag. It makes or breaks a good round.

In putting, these two points are important:

1 — You must feel comfortable over the ball. Take any kind of a grip as long as the putter feels comfortable in your hands. When you putt well you feel good over the ball and when you putt badly you feel mighty uncomfortable.

2 — The pressure points in your grip should be the same as with all the other clubs — the middle two fingers of your right hand and the last three fingers of your left hand. You feel the touch of the putter with the thumb and index finger of your right hand and with the thumb of your left hand.

When you take the putter back you take it back with the middle two fingers of the right hand. Then hit firmly and solidly with the three pressure fingers of the left hand.

To be more specific you take the putter away with your right hand then pull it through with the left hand.

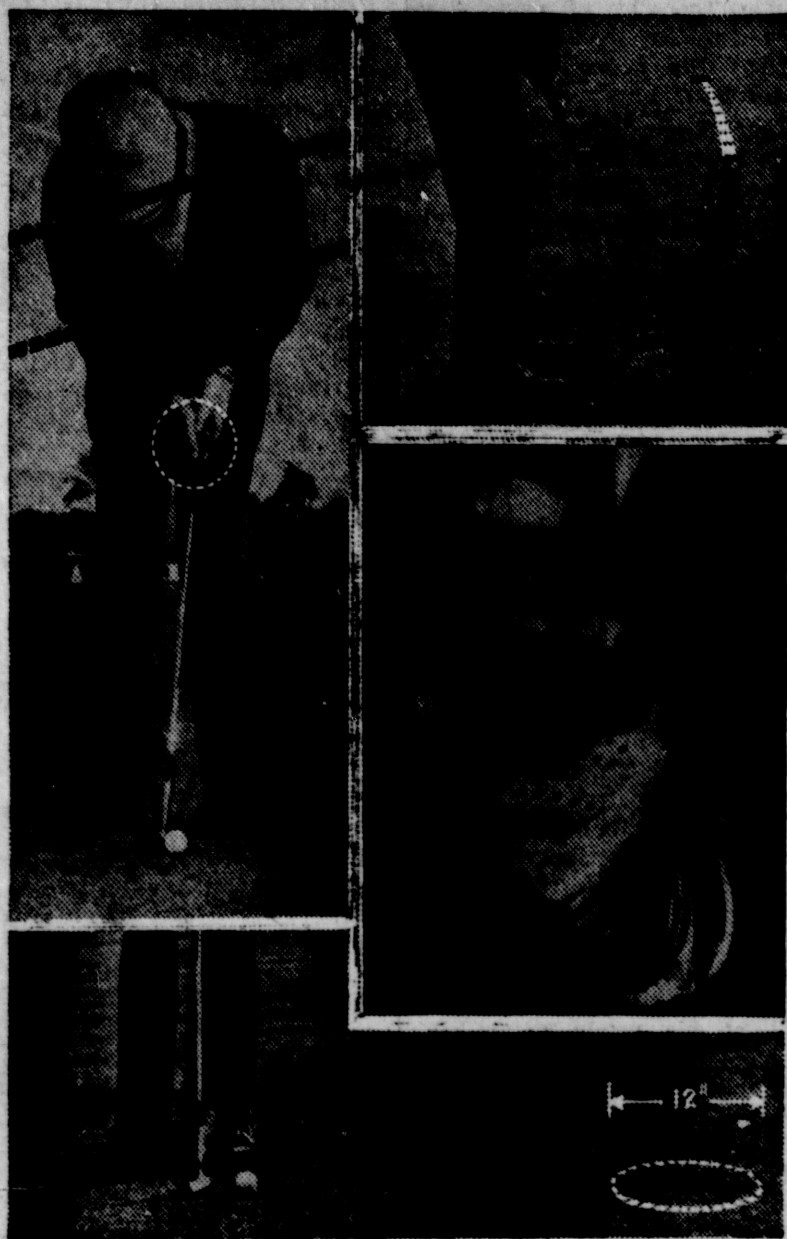

In hitting the ball you should accelerate as you make contact with the ball to give it a solid hit. Make believe you are trying to nail a tack into a board. This thought should prevent you from pushing or shoving the putt. The stroke should be fairly short, depending upon the length of the putt.

As for sinking the putt, pick a line on which you want the ball to roll and then try to get it started along that line. This is called feeding the ball into the hole. If you look at the hole and try to sink the putt you invariably lose the line of the putt.

The line of the putt is the most important thing where you have a break in the green. You must feed the ball along the line.

For example: To put a mouthful of carrots into the mouth of a baby you feed the spoon right into the baby's mouth. You must get this thought and feeling when putting. And you can attain this feeling if you try to let the putter blade follow the ball toward the hole or toward the intended line of roll.

Once you have picked the putting line, don't look at the hole.

THINGS TO REMEMBER WHEN PUTTING

AMAZING PUTTING helped Ken Venturi win the U.S. Open title. He averaged 31 strokes a round. Above he stresses some of the things all golfers should remember in order to improve their play on the greens. To stay under the ball and prevent topping the putt. Venturi keeps his right elbow and right shoulder lower than his left elbow and left shoulder. He uses the two thumbs and right index finger as his sense of touch. Once he picks a line for the roll of the ball he feeds the ball along the line rather than directly for the hole. He also advises golfers to imagine the hole as being 12 inches in diameter instead of the usual 4 1/4 inches. The underside of his putting grip shows that only two fingers are off the club shaft.

If you have picked the line properly you have a good chance of making the putt.

By staying under the ball you prevent topping, which creates overspin.

When you mark your ball on the green the ball should be replaced with the trademark facing the intended line of roll. Pros use the label as an arrow, even on tee shots. It aids concentration.

Long putts should be hit to get close by taking the percentage. For instance, if you think the ball will break eight inches on a 30-foot putt, play for a 12-inch break and let the ball fall from the high side. And visualize the hole, instead of being 4 1/4 inches in diameter, as being 12 inches wide. Just try for closeness to that imaginary 12-inch circle. You'll find a lot of long putts dropping or, at worst, leaving you with a cinch putt.

It's not really how many long putts you sink but how few putts you miss from up close.

Putting should become methodical. Do the same thing on every green. Take two or three looks at the terrain, the hole and the intended line of roll. And by placing the blade in front of your ball before each putt you will help adjust your timing and coordination.

Now go out and swing away. And if you don't think you've improved some I hope you've saved all the previous lessons. It's good to keep them and read them over. You might have missed something.

Attend Meetings To Avoid Threat

LAWSON, Mo. (AP) — It may be all right for Mary to have a little lamb, but the members of the Lawson Rotary Club are avoiding one as if it were the plague.

And the club has perfect attendance the last seven weeks because of it.

In January, club president Charlie Black, a former University of Kansas basketball star, told members that the first one missing a meeting would receive a little lamb to care for until some other member misses.

U. S. ANNOYED BY DE GAULLE "DIPLOMACY"

An AP News Analysis
By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
AP Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON (AP) — The attitude of Washington officials toward the actions of French President Charles de Gaulle ranges from annoyance to acute frustration. At the moment acute frustration is on the increase.

This could have become explosively apparent in recent days were it not for the fact that President Johnson decided long ago against open quarreling with De Gaulle because he wants to minimize damage to the Atlantic Alliance and to long-term French-American relations.

UNDERMINES U. S. Frustration has swelled behind the scenes, however, because many officials are convinced De Gaulle's present active diplomacy has the effect of undermining U.S. war policy in Viet Nam.

The problem is not that France wants a peaceful settlement, they say. The problem, as they see it, is that France is pressing hard for immediate negotiations to end the war at a time when the United States is increasing military pressure on the Communists in an effort to create more favorable conditions for negotiation.

Press reports obviously emanating from official sources in Paris earlier this week represented the view of the De Gaulle government as being that (1) Neutralization of South Viet Nam offers the only possible solution; (2) Continuation of the conflict by the United States risks a major war with Red China; (3) If the United States gets into a war with Red China, France will have no part of it.

Navy Secretive About Gunboats

TACOMA, Wash. (AP) — The Navy isn't saying where it plans to use some heavily armed gunboats it is having built here, but their shallow draft suggest possible use in Viet Nam or other Southeast Asian trouble spots.

The last two of an order of 10 of the 36-foot, steel-hulled boats were scheduled for delivery to the Navy at Seattle today by the Peterson Boat Building Co.

The Navy has ordered 24 more, with deliveries to start at a rate of two per month in June. The craft draws only 3 feet, 8 inches of water. They mount twin 50-caliber machine guns on turrets fore and aft and single 30-caliber machine guns on each side.

All Sit-Ins Are Barred From White House By LBJ

By FRANK CORMIER

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson gave orders today that any future sit-in demonstrators at the White House be evicted promptly regardless of the cause they support.

This decision in the wake of Thursday's sit-in by 12 Negro and white youths, who felt the federal government wasn't doing enough for the civil rights cause in Selma, Ala., underlay still another presidential decision to open the White House to public tours again today. The demonstrators had posed as tourists to gain entry.

Johnson and his aides reasoned that the question of further demonstrations had to be met squarely. They regarded today's 10 a.m. to noon tours as a test.

STAYED 7 HOURS

The decisions were not arrived at easily or quickly, however. The pioneering sit-in group was permitted to remain in the White House for more than seven hours before the last of their number were "walked" to police cruisers and taken to station houses where they were booked on charges of unlawful entry, then released.

This delay partly reflected time consumed in a series of high level conferences which led to what Johnson regarded as a "consensus" decision to evict the youths and take similar steps more quickly in the event of a repetition of such an incident.

LBJ IS IRRITATED

Johnson, irritated by what he regarded an improper invasion of his home, debated strategy.

Several key aides were in disagreement from the start, feeling that anyone camping in the White House should be evicted promptly and, in fact, arrested in order to avoid encouraging, by default as it were, similar incidents in the future.

Johnson was mindful that a number of those active in the civil rights movement had publicly contended he failed to act forcefully in the tense Selma situation. Although convinced he had been restrained yet firm throughout, the President wanted to avoid further criticism from that quarter.

'Phone Workers Get Wage Hike

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Bell Telephone Co. of Pennsylvania and union negotiators have reached an agreement on wage increases ranging from $2.50 to $4.00 a week for some 7,500 employees.

The agreement, reached Thursday, will become effective March 14 if ratified by union membership. It also provides for reclassification of central office operating employees in 11 communities to higher wage scales. These are:

Altoona, Bellefonte, Butler, Conneautville, Doylestown, Pottsville, Scranton, Washington, Wilkes-Barre, Williamsport and Uniontown.

The Pennsylvania Telephone Union, Local 1944, International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, AFL-CIO, negotiated the agreement for telephone operators, other central office employees and related clerical and dining service personnel in some 70 communities.

FIRE HAZARDS FOUND IN 35 PA. SCHOOLS

HARRISBURG (AP) — The State Board of Education was told Thursday that 35 public schools in Pennsylvania have been "found to be fire hazards."

Mario C. Celli, a McKeesport architect and chairman of the board's committee on buildings, reported on the findings of a survey. He did not name the schools, but he said they had a combined enrollment of 8,823 pupils.

Using a Department of Public Instruction circular entitled "Calculator" as his basis, Celli cited statistics showing what he termed "totally inadequate" conditions existing in many of the state's public schools.

The board adopted his motion that the department identify these buildings "as soon as possible" and make "complete and detailed recommendations" on how the defects can be corrected.

In other action, the board cited an urgent need for new legislation "to create a new legal basis for a sound community college program" in Pennsylvania.

EX-GOVERNOR ACQUITTED OF TAX EVASION

CHICAGO (AP) — The Stratton family talked about pride, prayers, appreciation and politics Thursday after the acquittal of former Gov. William G. Stratton on income tax evasion charges.

"It's been a long time," Shirley Stratton, his wife, said of the trial. "I've been sustained by tremendous faith in my husband and in God. I can't tell you how strongly I feel for the jury system of this country."

"My son has been equal to many things," said Zula Stratton, his mother. "And I think this (the trial) showed he could take it."

"We live in a pretty wonderful country," said Stratton, 51, who was Republican governor of Illinois from 1952 to 1960. "If you are right, the jury will go along with you."

"HAPPY FAMILY"

The comments, and many more, came from the happy family after a U.S. District Court jury of six men and six women acquitted Stratton.

Stratton was accused in a four-count indictment of evading payment of nearly $41,000 on allegedly unreported income of $83,000 from 1957 to 1960, his second term in office. The trial began Jan. 4. The case went to the jury late Wednesday.

Stratton, defeated for a third term by Gov. Otto Kerner, talked with newsmen after the jury's verdict.

James MARLOW Reports

By The Associated Press

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson is feeling the heat. The two big puzzles the nation faces, oceans apart and unrelated, burst on him after a long period of comparatively cool tranquility.

Events in Viet Nam and Selma, Ala., at this moment beyond prediction by Johnson or anyone else, may deeply affect his presidency and his future.

In Viet Nam he has taken strong action against the North Vietnamese to try to smash their will to war. They show no signs of bucking. And if Johnson further intensifies the war, he can't tell what Russia and Red China will do.

OPINION DIVIDED

But there is divided opinion here at home on what his policy should be.

Yet, if the Southeast Asian problem looks baffling, it is no more so than what is happening in Alabama where civil rights forces are demonstrating for Negroes' voting rights. Here he is reluctant to intervene directly.

He has taken some indirect steps, through aides and a call for reason, to cool off both sides, the civil rights people and the Alabama authorities. But pressure is piling up on him for more direct action.

HEAT TURNED ON

At Selma the heat was turned on him Sunday when 40 Negroes in a civil rights march were clubbed by State Police who had been instructed by Gov. George C. Wallace to prevent them from continuing their journey.

They had wanted to march 50 miles from Selma to the Capitol at Montgomery to present him with a petition to let more Negroes vote.

Then three white ministers from the North, in Selma to help in the civil rights struggle, were beaten on the city streets. One was gravely injured. A second march, planned for Tuesday, was forbidden by a federal judge.

ANOTHER DEMONSTRATION

He planned a hearing on the whole business today. But Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. defied the court order and started another march. This was abandoned when state troopers stood in the way.

Wednesday night there was another demonstration in Selma. Police blocked this one.

All these events brought roars of protest from across much of the nation by many political leaders, church groups, union officials, governors, mayors, legislators, students, and civil rights workers.

CALL FOR ACTION

Republicans in Congress called for presidential action. In Los Angeles 85 civil rights workers were arrested in front of the federal building as they protested the treatment of Negroes in Selma.

In San Francisco the longshoremen's president, Harry Bridges, proposed that his union refuse to handle goods from Alabama. Demonstrators picketed the White House, one with a sign saying "shame."

Other demonstrators picketed the Justice Department and, for two days in a row, were hauled out of it when they refused to leave at closing time.

NEW POOL IN HOUSE OFFICE BLDG. READY

By JOHN BECKLER

WASHINGTON (AP) — House members can start taking their bathing suits to work today. Their new swimming pool, a hidden asset in the lavish new Rayburn Office Building, is open for pleasure.

The pool, tucked away on a subterranean garage level of the $86.4-million office building, was formally opened Thursday along with a handsome gym, packed full of equipment designed to relax and invigorate the legislators.

The location of the pool was a well-kept secret during the years the building was under construction, and its cost is still unfixated. And when its existence was finally acknowledged it was referred to only as a "health exercise pool."

BEING DEFENDED

The healthful exercise can be carried on in a pool 60 feet long and 20 feet wide, in water deepening to 10 feet and kept at 80 degrees. It is three floors below the gym, connected by a stairway and elevator.

Even as the recreation facilities — featuring a gleaming expanse of hardwood gymnasium floor, marble trimmed baths worthy of a Roman solon, and the blue-tiled pool — were being dedicated, the Rayburn building was being defended on the House floor against what Rep. Tom Steed, D-Okla., called "appalling numbers of erroneous statements and unwarranted inferences in news stories about it."

"It is designed to stand with time," said Steed, chairman of a subcommittee that appropriated most of the money for it. "No one need apologize if it has grandeur and majesty — that's what it ought to have."

"A somewhat similar view was expressed by Rep. Charles A. Halleck, R-Ind., former House Republican leader, at the dedication ceremonies, which President Johnson attended.

"No matter what the press says," Halleck told an appreciative audience of members, "for all the frustrations and abrasions that come from serving in Congress we're entitled to a few fringe benefits."

The President told the crowd: "I didn't come here for a work-out. I get one every day in my job."

There are 5,510 department stores in the U.S.

The President is preparing a bill to submit to Congress to protect Negro voting rights. As he works on it, Negroes are threatening a march on Washington unless it is a truly strong bill.

MOST UNPREDICTABLE

But the most unpredictable element in this uproar was the future action of the civil rights leaders in Alabama, particularly Dr. King.

There seemed no particular purpose in the Tuesday march, which troopers turned back without violence, and the demonstration Wednesday night except to dramatize for the nation their boiling discontent.

It seems unlikely this can go on indefinitely without violent explosions. But Johnson, contrary to his previous tactics on major problems before the nation, has been extraordinarily quiet on Viet Nam and Selma.

14,000 To Train At Indiantown Gap

INDIANTOWN GAP, Pa. (AP) — Maj. Gen. Van H. Bond, commander of the 21st Army Corps and the Indiantown Gap military registration, says more than 14,000 troops will train here this summer.

Some 12,000 members of reserve components will take part in a series of encampments, while 2,000 active Army personnel will be assigned for technical and training support during the period from May 29 through Aug. 28.

The largest single training activity will bring 3,200 cadets from 54 colleges and universities for a six-week encampment of the Reserve Officers Training Corps (ROTC). The cadets will be here from June 19 through July 30.

Approve Bill On Coal Mine Safety

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Education and Labor Committee has unanimously approved a bill that would put small coal mines under provisions of the Federal Coal Mine Safety Act.

Mines employing 14 or fewer men are presently exempt from the act.

The bill, approved Thursday, had been opposed for years by small mine operators and state mine officials. They say adequate safety inspection can be provided by the states.

Rep. John H. Dent, D-Pa., author of the bill, has said 59 percent of all mine fatalities last year occurred in small mines.

Apples were introduced into England from Syria in 1522.

GOV. SCRANTON WILL ADDRESS RIGHTS RALLY

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Gov. Scranton plans to deliver the main address at a civil rights demonstration set for Monday in Harrisburg to call attention to the voting rights struggle in Selma, Ala.

The governor announced the plans Thursday as demonstrators staged a sit-in at the Federal Building in Philadelphia, the state's senators joined colleagues in Washington in seeking federal protection in Selma and the State Board of Education expressed its concern over the situation there.

In yet another development, a group of religious organizations in Philadelphia scheduled an interfaith prayer assembly today in City Hall courtyard on behalf of civil rights demonstrators at Selma.

The civil rights program set Monday in Harrisburg, will be held on the steps of the state Capitol and will involve a march around the building. The demonstration was called by the Dauphin County chapter of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

As the plans for the demonstration were announced, U.S. Marshals and special deputies from the Philadelphia police force carried 30 civil rights demonstrators out of the federal building on stretchers, following a sit-in that called for more federal action in Alabama.

The demonstrators allowed themselves to be removed without resistance. They included one minister and members of the University of Pennsylvania and Temple University chapters of the NAACP, the Student Non-Violence Coordinating Committee and the Congress of Racial Equality.

PROTESTS VOICED

While officials carried the demonstrators out, groups of other students picketed outside and staged sit-downs in the doorways. City police carried the outside demonstrators from the doorways to clear a path for the stretcher-bearing deputy marshals.

Other protests against the occurrences in Selma were voiced by the State Board of Education and Philip H. Savage, tri-state director of the NAACP, in separate statements.

The board expressed its distress at the denial of voting rights to Negroes in Selma and expressed its concern over the "puzzlement and confusion" the situation might raise in the minds of Pennsylvania school children.

Multiple Health-Care Bill Will Cost Government Only $600 Million Under New Plan

By EDMOND LEBRETON

WASHINGTON (AP) — The cost of the proposed multiple health-care plan has been estimated at $2.3 billion, but only about $600 million of this would be charged to the regular government budget, it was understood today.

The figures were reported to have been submitted to the House Ways and Means Committee which is prolonging its consideration of the complex plan combining elements of President Johnson's proposals and a program advanced by Wisconsin Rep. John W. Byrnes and other Republicans.

DISCUSS NOVEL TAX

The committee is discussing a novel income tax arrangement designed to recoup for the Treasury some or all of the government contribution to the major medical segment of the plan when the beneficiaries have enough income to be liable to taxes.

The tentative plan calls for a hospitalization and nursing home segment that would be paid for by an increase in the payroll tax. This had been estimated to cost, initially, about $1.8 billion a year, outside the regular budget.

OPTIONAL HELP

The next segment would be a form of major medical insurance helping with doctor and drug bills. It would be optional. A retired person wishing to join would allot $3 a month from his Social Security benefit, and the government would match it. The basic Social Security benefit would be increased under the bill so no one would wind up with less cash income than he now receives.

The income tax recouping would be effected by reducing the basic personal exemption of retired persons who chose to avail themselves of this part of the plan. For those whose income was so small that they paid no tax, this would have no effect. The higher the income, the greater the recouping by the government.

In general, the recouping would not be felt by anyone whose gross income did not exceed $1,500, in addition to any tax-exempt income, such as Social Security payments under present law. Only about 4 million of the 18 million persons now 65 or older now are obliged to file tax returns.

Persons 65 or older now have a personal tax exemption of $1,200. The proposal would reduce this to $1,100 or $1,050 — the figure still is under discussion. Social Security specialists estimate that the additional income tax brought in by such a reduction, balanced against the government's share of the cost of the major medical insurance, would amount to a net government liability of about $400 million.

Proposed increases in the existing state-federal plan of health for the indigent and near-indigent were estimated to cost $200 million additional setting the total claim on the general Treasury at $600 million.

WORKING OVERTIME

HARRISBURG (AP) — The Bureau of Motor Vehicles is working overtime in order to process applications for new auto license plates.

Theodore B. Smith Jr., secretary of revenue, announced Thursday that the bureau would be open the next three Saturdays. Owners of passenger cars and station wagons must have new plates on their cars by 12:01 a.m., April 1.

To make sandwich rolls, you'll probably find it practical to use a loaf of special sandwich bread sliced very thin. Be sure to remove the crusts from the

Taneytown

TANEYTOWN — Gifts to the church will be dedicated Sunday morning at the 10 o'clock service in Trinity Lutheran Church. They include 450 copies of the Service Book and Hymnal, provided largely through contributions from the congregation and a pulpit Bible, lecture Bible and altar Service Book from the Mite Society. A memorial gift of a complete set of altar paraments also will be dedicated.

Kenneth C. Crouse, chairman of the long-range planning committee of the church, has arranged a program "Being a Christian in the Space Age," for Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock in the Sunday School room. Edward C. Soistman, Orlando, Fla., where he is vice-president of the church council and a member of the commission on evangelism of the Lutheran Church in America, will speak on planning, retreats, stewardship and evangelism.

People In The News

HONOLULU (AP) — Evangelist Billy Graham, 46, is reported in satisfactory condition in a hospital. He has an acute bronchial infection.

An associate said Thursday Graham has been battling the ailment for two weeks "but his resistance is not very strong toward these respiratory illnesses."

NEW YORK (AP) — Mette H. Lie, 34, daughter of former U.N. Secretary-General Trygve Lie, and Stein Ves Host, 40, a Paris-born chemical engineer, obtained a marriage license Thursday.

GRINNELL, Iowa (AP) — Grinnell College, which two years ago heard from former President Harry S. Truman, soon will be listening to his successor.

Dwight D. Eisenhower will serve as politician-in-residence and political lecturer at the college May 13-14.

Truman visited the campus in a similar capacity in the fall of 1963. Eisenhower and Truman are the only living former presidents.

LONDON (AP) — Earl Attlee, former Labor party prime minister was pronounced in "quite satisfactory" condition as he left a London hospital Thursday night after a checkup. Attlee, 82, became ill at his home and entered the hospital Monday.
